BLAIRMORE CINCHES CROW LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Blairmore won their second encounter with the Coleman Canadians last night in one of the hardest fought hockey games of the season on Coleman ice. Coleman secured two up on the Bearcats in the opening period, but that was all. Blairmore paraded through the second and third and emerged winners by a score of 4 to 2, whereby they qualified to enter the provincial playdowns. The attendance was about the largest for Coleman in the last two seasons. The game was refereed by 'Doc' Bayhour, of Bellevue. We understand that plans are now being arranged for a series of exhibition games, the first likely with Kimberley here. There is also a possibility of either home and home games with Calgary Bronks or a game with Okotoks at Macleod, any of which would be good drawing cards. Attending the game last night were fans all the way from Lethbridge east to Kimberley west. Even a sprinkling of C rdston and Waterton folks were noticed.

HILLCREST CITIZEN B-REAVED

The death occurred at Thorburn, Nova Scotia, on Monday, December the 21st, of Rev. Daniel MacVicar, for years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Thorburn and exmoderator of the Maritime Synod, following an illness of several months. In connection with his death, we clip the following comment from the New Glasgow Free Lance.

"Rev. Mr. MacVicar, one of the most energetic members of Pictou Presbytery, was stricken with illness early in September and spent three weeks in Aberdeen hospital. Recovering slightly, he was taken to the manse at Thorburn, and for a time seemed to be slowly recovering. On Saturday, however, he again became seriously ill and on Sunday a few weak turn, from which he failed to rally.

"Mr. MacVicar was born at Port Morien, C.B., fifty-five years ago, where he received his early education. He later attended Dalhousie and Pine Hill, studying under Principal Clarence MacKinnon, D.D. He served for sixteen years in the ministry, holding pastorates at Eureka, Pictou county for one year; Cardigan, P.E.I., for ten years, and Thorburn for the past five years. He was an active member of the Loyal Orange and Masonic orders. Just prior to his illness he was elected grand chaplain of the latter organization, but the installation ceremony had not taken place on account of his sickness.

"Deceased is survived by his wife, at Thorburn; his mother, Mrs. Catherine MacVicar, Glace Bay; five brothers and two sisters: Henry, Charles and Jack, Glace Bay; Murray, at Whinnipeg; Hugh, coal inspector at Hillcrest, Alberta; Mrs. Hector Macdonald, at Glace Bay, and Mrs. Alex Ross, at Sydney.

The following tribute to Mr. MacVicar was paid by Rev. Dr. Hugh Munro, of Westminster church, New Glasgow: "The death of Mr. MacVicar will be a serious loss to the Presbyterian church in the Maritime Provinces. He was a native son of Nova Scotia and understood the point of view of the people. He was also a fearless worker and great organizer, and has a large circle of friends who will grieve at his early passing."

A cut of half a million dollars in the grant towards teachers' salaries has been made by the British Columbia government, as one of the provisions of the economy program.

CURRY-MORRIS

The First United paragonage was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday, December 24, when Miss Hilla Morris, of Lethbridge, became the bride of Mr. David Curry, of Bellevue. The bride was becomingly attired in a navy blue dress of georgette and lace with a smart hat in the same shade. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Miss Lizzie Morris was her attendant and wore a dress of blue silk trimmed with sand. Her bouquet was of carnations. Mr. John Curry attended the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy Taylor. After a reception at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Curry left for Bellevue, where they will make their home.—Lethbridge Herald.

We congratulate our spirited contemporary, The Blairmore Enterprise, upon its Christmas issue. It is highly creditable and breathes the unquenchable optimism of the Canadian West. We trust that Santa Claus has been good to each and all of them.—New Glasgow Free Lance.

Why The World Is Sick

Reviewing all that the world has passed through in the years 1914 to 1917, considering the deplorable state of affairs existing in the world today, and at the beginning of a new year, looking into the immediate future, one would expect all people, of all races, nationalities, languages and creeds, who possess an atom of intelligence and a modicum of common sense to solemnly vow "Never again."

During the frightful years of human anguish and suffering of the world war people were sustained, even uplifted, by the hope, the oft-expressed declaration, that it was a war to end all war; that when the strife and agony was ended, a new and brighter day would dawn for this old world, the commencement of an era of happiness, progress and prosperity unparalleled in the history of mankind. buoyed up with these hopes, inspired by this bright vision, people labored and sacrificed and suffered confident that their children and children's children through generations to come would reap the benefit.

But disillusionment has come. The nations of the world were not purified in the fires of war; the selfishness and greed of man were not consumed. The huge debts which the war imposed on each nation are crushing the people, but instead of a willingness to mutually and amicably adjust these burdens, or, as there should be, a keen anxiety to do so, with the strong helping the weak, the nations with war-like ferocity seem bent on making the "other fellow" pay to the last farthing. Like Shylock of old, they demand their pound of flesh, caring not that thereby all are headed toward the abyss of destruction.

And individuals, like nations, display the same selfishness, and even greater greed. For the losses they sustained during the war, they seem determined to recoup themselves. Full and exorbitant payment they are demanding for the allegedly patriotic sacrifices they made during the war period. They apparently care not that such payment to them means ruin to others, and they short-sightedly forget that with the ruin of these others loss must inevitably fall upon themselves.

And so, man, a decade and a half after the joyful announcement of the armistice and the coming of the long hoped for peace, there is as much suffering throughout the world as during the war years, possibly less in some countries but much more in others. The same great wealth of natural resources, provided by a benign Providence, exists; the needs and desire of man are as great as ever; the means are at hand to utilize the one to meet the requirements of the other. But selfishness, which says "No," he refuses to consent to anything to help his fellow man, but selfishly thinks only of self, and demands that all others shall help him while he holds back the aid he might extend.

Thus each nation builds economic barriers against all other nations; each is at war with all others in an attempt to out-manoeuvre them, to make progress while all others decline. And so all suffer, not one is making progress, all are on the decline. Again, what is true of nations, is true of individuals. One industry makes demands for itself alone regardless of the effect on other industries, forgetting that if these others suffer, it, too, must suffer; if they perish, it, also, must die.

The world war to end all war failed in its object. War rages today between the nations as never before. It is a world war, more embracing in fact than the colossal struggle of 1914-1918. It is being fought by different methods, that is all. It is piling up national debts higher than ever; it is steadily, even rapidly, increasing the burdens of taxation; it is destroying trade and commerce; it is making men, women and children naked, and cold and hungry. The Great War did provide employment for all; the present economic world war has thrown millions out of employment, and the number steadily increases. It is undermining the health and the morale of countless thousands of people.

The picture is a dark, a gloomy one. It is, however, futile to delude ourselves. It is idle to cry peace, peace, when there is no peace. The only salvation for the world is a return to sanity. The world is just what the people of the world make it. If they insist on fighting each other, whether in a physical or economic sense, why fight they will. But in seeking and striving to destroy they must assuredly cannot build up and prosper. The world must turn from its present ways before it can recover from its sickness. It is not a shortage of gold, nor over-production, nor even present indebtedness is the trouble. It is the people and their prevailing outlook on life, their individual and narrow nationalistic selfishness that is the root cause of the world's sickness and depression.

Idea Is Not New

Psychologist Believes Murder Preventable By Detecting Criminal Type Early

Murders may be prevented in the near future by the recognition and treatment of the types likely to commit major crimes.

This is the belief of Miss Alice Raven, a leading London psychologist, who has made an exhaustive study of the most famous murder cases of present years.

"In all cases of murder I have investigated," she told a news-paper representative, "I have found a definite psychological similarity in the murderers."

"Murderers are almost invariably introverts with a sense of hostility towards the world, probably due to an inferiority complex, and they have frequently no power of self-expression."

"Their creative faculties are bottled up within them, and this repression leads to a desire for violence."

"More research is needed on this point, but I am inclined to think that the murderer is a man who has a memory of cruelty in childhood to work off."

"My studies of murder cases and criminal mentality show that murder is only committed under certain definite conditions, and I am convinced that trained psychologists will ultimately be able to recognize the type, even in childhood, likely to commit major crimes, and the social services will take them in hand."

Canadian Ports Cheaper

Cattle Exporter Sends Shipment Of American Meat From Quebec

The possibility that Canadian ports will be used in future in preference to American ports as a shipping centre for cattle and horse shipments to Europe was foreseen at Quebec by William R. Rowe, leading United States cattle exporter, who was supervising the loading of twenty-eight sample head of American mules consigned to the Italian Government for army purposes, chiefly in connection with artillery.

The animals were sent across on the freighter "Hawkeye," which vessel also carried a capacity cargo of 226,000 bushels of grain for Hamburg. When asked why he had chosen Quebec as the shipping port, Mr. Rowe said he found that even with the longer rail haul to a Canadian port, transportation costs were reduced considerably, resulting from a much lower cost of Canadian feed. The exporter, who crossed to Europe in charge of the shipment, expressed the opinion that the movement of these animals through Canadian ports would increase in the future, meaning that a trade which previously had gone entirely through United States harbors now will be deflected to the ports of Quebec and Montreal during summer months, and St. John, N.B., in the winter season.

Newest Excuse For Passing Traffic Light

Alabama Negro Said He Thought It Was Christmas Decoration

Two long-eared farm mules driven by an aged negro pulled a rattling wagon past a red traffic light in Montgomery, Ala., last night.

"Traffic became paralyzed. Motorists shouted; horns tooted in swelling bedlam. 'Hey, you,' roared policeman W. H. Collier, trying bravely to untangle the maul, 'didn't you see that red light?'"

"Yes, sah, boss, I seed it long 'fore I got here," the old negro replied with a disarming grin. "I 'been watchin' it flash red and green as I drive up the street. Ain't no tellin' what you city folks gwine do next for Christmas decorations."

So saying, the aged one clucked to his mules and was on his way, still grinning.

Ends Long Journey

Young Man Went Round World In Small Boat

William Albert Robinson, the young man from Lowell, Mass., who in 1925 set out from New York with the set purpose of circumnavigating the globe in a thirty-two-foot ketch named the "Swamp" (Sanskrit for "Dream"), brought the same slim ship into the dock of the fireboats at the Battery and thus, after three years and five months of sailing, brought his journey to an end.

Robinson said he had visited more than 400 ports; had sailed more than 30,000 miles; once had nearly been run down by a steamship; had been captured in the Red Sea by Arabian pirates; had seen volcanoes and waterfalls; had seen whales and frigate birds and albatrosses; had listened to the drums of the Samoans; had drunk kava, had chewed betel; had tasted the durian; had heard many strange tales, and had made many friends.

During the nearly three and a half years he encountered almost everything but shipwreck. In the Atlantic, the ship had run into seas so high that the "Swamp" had all but stood on end; in the immense Pacific he had been becalmed; he had been through the treacherous coral reefs among the Society group; he had sailed the Bay of Bengal when the sea was as smooth as a sheet of beaten silver.

Robinson spoke with enthusiasm of his little ketch. "I am convinced," he said, "that one would go far to find a better type of small boat for ocean cruising." From the masts of the weather-beaten vessel flew the pennant of the Douglaston, Yeacht Club and a tattered American flag. He had found the boat, he said, in a yard in Rye. It had been built in 1925 in the yard of John Etherington, of Shelburne, Nova Scotia, was 32 feet 9 inches in length at water line; had a beam of 9 feet 6 inches, and a draft of 5 feet 6 inches, a jib-headed ketch with rather stumpy masts. He added a spare mull of 330 square feet on a 16-foot spar. The "Swamp" had been fitted with a 6-8 horsepower Kermath engine so that in smooth water he had been able to make six knots. The boat's tonnage was 11.6 tons gross, 10.2 tons net.

Without An Audience

Airplane Scene Of Wrestling Match Between Tiger and Trainer

A wrestling match between a tiger and his trainer in an aeroplane flying over the English Channel from France was reported by the London Star.

The tiger was said to have broken out of a large wooden cage and started grappling with his caretaker—his customary circus act. Being the location was hardly suitable for such an act, the trainer dashed into the cage with the beast clinging to him and closed the door.

They made the rest of the journey apparently in perfect harmony. The pilot and his mechanic were ignorant of the events occurring in the cabin behind them.

Discoveries Confirm Report

Geological Mapping Of Manitoba Area Indicates Gold Deposits

The discovery of gold made recently in the Island Lake area of northern Manitoba would appear to confirm the views expressed by Dr. J. F. Wright in the summary report issued by the geological survey, Department of Mines, Ottawa, following the geological mapping of that area in 1927, according to a brief statement issued from the Department of Mines, Ottawa. The statement continues:

"Commenting on the mineral possibilities of this district, Dr. Wright who paid a further visit to the area during the past summer, states that the geology indicates areas of rock similar to those wherein commercial mineral deposits have been discovered elsewhere within the Canadian shield. Consequently, it is pointed out, the area is one that should be prospected carefully. Favorable rock conditions extend over a large belt and a great deal of intensive, systematic prospecting will be necessary before the mineral possibilities can be evaluated."

Manitoba Not Changing

Auto License Tax

But Owners In Saskatchewan Pay Five Dollars More

Licenses for motor cars in Manitoba will cost as much for 1928 as this year, and the registration fee will continue to be the same, inquires at the legislative buildings disclosed.

No change is contemplated in Manitoba. In Saskatchewan a citizen called upon to pay $5 more for licenses than do owners of motor cars in Manitoba.

Licenses in Manitoba range from $9 to $35 in cost, depending on the length of the wheelbase of the car. Registration of motor vehicles other than trucks and trailers cost $9 for cars not exceeding 100 inches in the length of the wheelbase, and $25 for every additional five inches in the wheelbase.

Difficult To Understand

Why People Get Any Enjoyment Out Of Gossip

Of all the vices on earth the one that is the most difficult to understand is the vice of gossip. For most crimes we can find some explanation; for gossip there is no explanation except depravity or insanity. How people can find enjoyment in making life hard for others is one of the eternal mysteries. The slanderous activity of malicious tongues has caused more havoc in the world than any other one viciousness.

Won War Against Speeders

But Duke Of Marlborough Had To Use Drastic Method

The Duke of Marlborough has won his war against the speed-hogs on his estate.

Some weeks ago, personally in command by the speeding of motor-cars through the private roads of his estates at Blenheim Park, he adopted a novel, if somewhat drastic method of preventing fast driving.

He had two "bumps" built into the roadway near Blenheim Palace, with the result that motorists taking the corner at speed received a timely reminder of their sins.

Speaking recently, the Duke of Marlborough, who had previously expressed his determination to stamp out speeding through his estate, stated that his methods had resulted in the return of normal motoring.

UNION OF SILVER AND GOLD NEEDED SAYS MR. STEVENS

Vancouver, B.C.—A picture of the world consuming more foodstuffs in the form of wheat and rye than it was producing, was given here, Friday, December 18, by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an address to the foreign trade bureau of the Board of Trade.

Increased production during the past ten years had been accompanied by increased consumption, so that this year there would be a deficit of 350,000,000 bushels of the two cereals to eat into the present so-called surplus.

But Mr. Stevens did not recognize that there was a surplus. Cereals were used only because the millions of Asia had been robbed of their purchasing power through the demonization of silver. He further stated that aside from the silver available from demonization, there was actually under-production of the metal to meet present consumption.

The Minister related the history of the displacement of silver by gold as the basis of currency through arbitrary action of governments and said that since the start of the movement in 1816, the purchasing power of the Orient had consistently decreased with the exception of the war period.

The speaker did not believe in artificial control to overcome present depression, but declared for the union of silver and gold, so that there might be enough currency for the world to carry on its trade. Simple lack of currency was the cause of the world's economic troubles, he said.

Mr. Stevens called from Vancouver on the "Empress of Asia" for Honolulu, where he will negotiate with Hon. Dowling Stewart, New Zealand's Minister of Finance, with the purpose of arranging a trade treaty between the two Dominions.

British Labor Party Prepares Campaign

Executive Will Meet To Consider Prospective Candidates

London, England.—Headquarters of the Labor Party on Sunday, December 20, announced it would start the New Year with a large scale recruiting campaign to select 1,000,000 additional members. The executive committee of the party will meet next month to consider a list of prospective Labor candidates for parliament in every electoral division of the country for reviving enthusiasm in the party for reviving enthusiasm in the Labor programme.

The Labor party has suffered heavy numerical losses through the depression of trade in Great Britain and the accompanying lack of funds for political and trade union subscriptions.

The reverse suffered by the party in the general election, although it polled nearly 7,000,000 votes, was caused to some extent by the fact that many former supporters voted against the party in favor of National Government candidates.

Method To Separate Weeds

Claim New Method To Separate Weed Seeds From Clover

Toronto, Ont.—A new system of cleaning seeds which may prove of great value to farmers, has been discovered by Prof. F. C. Dyer and H. L. McClelland in the new mining laboratories at University of Toronto.

By recognizing and making use of a physical characteristic of seeds, apparently overlooked previously, the two men have been able to reduce weed seeds in alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover and alfalfa to an infinitesimally small number.

The apparatus utilized was simple, they said. It was little more than a rotating band and a tub of water.

Revenue Collections In Britain Are Down

Returns Fall To Confirm Optimistic Statement Of Chancellor Neville Chamberlain

London, Eng.—In spite of Chamberlain's optimistic statement that the budget will be balanced, revenue returns at the present time do not confirm his optimism.

So far, less than half the estimated revenue has been obtained, although nearly three-quarters of the financial year has gone, while total ordinary revenue is more than $225,000,000 less than in the corresponding period last year.

Total ordinary revenue from April 1 to Dec. 12, was approximately $11,320,000,000, as compared with $2,045,000,000 last year. The total estimated revenue for the full year is $3,923,500,000.

Although leading store advertisers have insisted that the British newspapers should abandon grim stories about income tax demands so as not to prevent unduly the public from doing their Christmas shopping, demands for increased amounts have been sent out by the authorities.

In this connection, municipal authorities are fighting with national revenue officials to obtain money from the unfortunate taxpayers and have taken a sardonic touch.

Meanwhile, the problem facing the national financial authorities is how far the nation will be able to meet tax demands and appeals are being made to the public to look upon it as a patriotic duty to make sacrifices so that Britain can balance her budget.

Former Civil Servants Are Given Terms

Charges Are Result Of Lengthy Investigations

Montreal, Que.—Two former members of the Civil Service, were, on Monday, December 21, given sentences of one month in jail and fines of $100 each on charges of accepting bribes to assist applicants in securing post office positions. Lionel Chartrand, of Aylmer, Que., pleaded guilty, while George R. Bergeron, of Montreal, was found guilty.

The leading indictment against Chartrand charged him with receiving amounts aggregating $2,000 from applicants on the promise he could secure positions in the post office department. The charges were the result of a lengthy investigation by post office officials and members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Force.

Receives Invitation To Tea

Driver Who Hit Churchill Has Shown Anxiety Over Accident

New York.—Mario Contasino, an unemployed, "cabbie" who lives in a house behind a nest of billboards in New York, happened to be driving the automobile that struck Mr. Winston Churchill, British statesman, on Fifth Avenue a week ago.

Sunday afternoon, December 20, Contasino, a little shy and abashed, sat at a table in a luxurious Waldorf-Astoria suite with the wife of his distinguished victim and their young daughter, Miss Diana Churchill.

The invitation to the small, teatime came because of the great anxiety Contasino evidenced in Mr. Churchill's recovery. Every day last week he called at the hospital.

Trans-Canada Telephone Line

Phone Line To Be In Operation About January 17

Calgary, Alberta.—The trans-Canada telephone line will be officially declared open about January 17, and a program to mark the forward step is being arranged at Montreal, said Hon. Vernon Smith, Alberta Minister of Telephones and Railways. Prominent Canadian officials would take part in the programme, he said.

Mr. Smith said there was still some work to be done on the new carrier system, especially between Winnipeg and Calgary, but he thought this work would be completed early in January.

Montreal Invaded By Russian Rats

Montreal, Que.—Montreal is invaded with a new species of out of town guest—the black Russian rat.

Noticed first two years ago in buildings near the harbor, the arrival was traced to ships from across the ocean. Their presence is resented by the native brown and grey rats.

Struggles for supremacy are going on and "the battle for possession of the warmest and most comfortable cellars will be a fight to a finish."

Mexico's Tourist Trade

Mexico City, Mexico, could well pattern after Canada in its treatment of guests, the Mexican consul-general at San Francisco reported in a recommendation to his government on how to increase Mexico's tourist trade.

The report pointed to existing regulations between Canada and the United States as eliminating all needless discomforts to tourists, and suggests that like action by the Mexican government would draw many additional tourists.

Winter Fair Plans Made

Show To Be Held In March, Probably On March 17th

Brandon, Man.—The Manitoba Cattle Breeders' Association has arranged matters pertaining to the winter fair and livestock show to be held in March. The date of the sale of purebred cattle will probably be Thursday, March 17, although that has not been definitely fixed.

The association expects keen interest as usual in all of the cattle classes and anticipates record entries in some of the sections.

WHEAT FOR THE NEEDY IN U. S. URGED

Washington, D.C.—A United States senate committee has started a move to take down the bars which separate the needy from the farm board's mountainous store of wheat.

With the approval of Chairman Stone of the board, the agricultural committee, Saturday, December 19, endorsed a measure to give 40,000,000 bushels of wheat to charity.

The board despite sales of millions of bushels to foreign governments, still has about 180,000,000 bushels which it acquired during costly stabilization operations.

Senators Capper, Republican, Kansas, and Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, drafted the 40,000,000-bushel bill, to sponsored the wheat donation. They gathered with Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, despite his opposition to the measure.

President Herbert Hoover has opposed direct appropriation from the federal treasury for feeding or clothing on the principle that it would amount to a dole. The measure would have the wheat charged to the credit of the farm board's $500,000,000 revolving fund and does not involve any government appropriation.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, insisted that the wheat be made available for striking miners in Kentucky who are outside the realm of Red Cross relief.

The sub-committee stipulated that the wheat be given to the Red Cross or any other charitable organization designed by President Hoover.

Kaye Don Building New Miss England

London, England.—A new "Miss England" will be ready soon to defend Britain's speedboat championship of the world.

Lord Wakefield, owner of the "Miss England II," which Kaye Don drove to a world's record of over 110 miles an hour at Lake Garda, Italy, last year, said he had let contracts for the construction of her successor.

VANQUISHED BOOST VICTORS

While Chinese statesmen and diplomats are trying to work up patriotic sentiment and arouse the sympathy of their countrymen outside the war zone for those on the inside, it would appear from the above photograph that sympathy thus aroused would be wasted.

The picture, made in Mukden, Manchuria, now in the hands of the Japanese invaders, shows a parade of citizens of the captured city as they marched to a demonstration to protest against League of Nations interference.

The Chinese marchers carried Japanese banners and flags, and were surprisingly enthusiastic in praise of their conquerors.

Chicago Anti-Crime Campaign

"Secret-Six" Confident That Organized Crime Is Crushed

Chicago.—Chicago's anti-crime campaigners looked back, Sunday, December 20, on a year of work and pronounced themselves confident that organized crime has been crushed.

To the Chicago crime commission and the "Secret-Six," backed by wealthy and influential citizens, was given most of the credit.

A vigilant federal government and a militant press were given as the other factors. Reorganization of the Chicago police force, the conviction of Al Capone on income tax charges, and enactment of legislation directed against gangsters, said Frank J. Loesch, president of the crime commission, has left the criminal begging for quarter.

Mind Clears Man Returns

Missing Man Arrives Home After Fishing Trip

White Plains, N.Y.—Harry Harvey, 39, was home again Sunday, Dec. 20, after being mourned for dead for 6½ months.

On May 2 he went on a fishing trip off the eye. He did not return and searchers found his empty boat. His body was not washed up, but his wife, Hazel, and four children believed him dead.

He walked in Saturday night with a strange story. He had been "struck over the head" while fishing, he said. He did not recall how it happened, and afterwards he remembered nothing until early this week when his memory came back like a flash.

Big Crop For Argentine

Two Weeks Of Opportune Rain Have Insured Crop

Buenos Aires.—Another huge Argentine wheat crop became a certainty on December 21, as reports from sections of the country where frost damage was feared told of high yields.

Grain men estimated the same amount of wheat for export from the harvest now nearing completion, as from the yields of previous years, in spite of the fact that the acreage was reduced 20 per cent. this year.

The amount available for export from this year's crop was forecast at from 125,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels.

Although 15,500,000 bushels of old wheat still are available for export, the new crop is moving to foreign markets with unusual rapidity. Five hundred and sixty-five thousand bushels of new wheat have been shipped already and tonnage has been chartered to move 13,300,000 bushels more before January 31, 1922.

In the meantime, two weeks of opportune rain have insured an immense corn crop, grain men said, from which the exports may surpass the 330,000,000 sent abroad from the last crop.

Public Ownership Programme

Calgary Trades and Labor Council Preparing Resolutions For Convention

Calgary, Alberta.—Start of public ownership programmes by the Federal and Provincial Governments was urged by the Calgary Trades and Labor Council in preparing resolutions to be submitted to the annual convention of the Alberta Federation of Labor in Drumheller, January 13.

Council asked that the public ownership programme include banks, all forms of insurance and gasoline, and also urged that land be leased by the governments instead of being sold outright to private persons.

Another resolution urged "A strong protest be made in regard to recent interpretations of the law which deal with what have been termed unlawful assemblies, and that the Federation make representations to the Labor members at Ottawa to have the necessary amendments passed to existing legislation to safeguard the right of Canadians to free speech."

SEEK CONTROL OF FOREIGN BOND BUYING

Toronto, Ont.—Following the meeting of bankers with Premier R. B. Bennett at Ottawa, recently, in which the exchange situation was discussed, J. A. McLeod, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association and general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, issued the following statement:

"The bankers met the Prime Minister at his request on Wednesday, December 16, in Ottawa, to discuss the adverse exchange situation and to devise means of lessening, so far as possible, the prevailing high rates."

"After discussion, the conclusion was that immediate steps should be taken through the banks, brokers, trust companies and investment houses, to control, insofar as they might be able, the purchase abroad of securities by residents of Canada. The bankers gave the Prime Minister the assurance that they would co-operate."

"This means that bankers, brokers, trust companies and investment houses organization should discourage by every possible argument coupled with a declaration to facilitate directly or indirectly such transactions, pointing out to the persons desiring to purchase that the Prime Minister had made the request in view of the serious adverse exchange situation. The statement could also be made to the prospective purchaser that the Prime Minister expected, without compulsory action on the part of the Government, there would be general co-operation along the desired lines by all interests."

"Notice to this effect has been communicated to all interests engaged in the handling of bonds, stocks, debentures and other securities, so that everybody who is engaged in making commitments on this account may have full knowledge of the Prime Minister's request. Bankers were already committed to the Prime Minister, and there has been a gratifying response so far from the bond, mortgage and stock interests as well as from representatives of foreign brokerage and arbitrage houses doing business in this country."

Sub-Arctic Held NO TERRORS FOR OTTAWA WOMAN

Edmonton, Alberta.—Rigors of Canada's sub-Arctic held no terror for Mrs. H. S. Madill, of Ottawa, who has just returned to civilization after a summer spent in the Arctic stretches of the Mackenzie and Athabasca.

Since leaving here, early last June, Mrs. Madill and her husband, who was engaged in survey work for the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa, travelled more than a thousand miles by canoe. They are returning to the federal capital by automobile.

Looking very slim but remarkably fit, Mrs. Madill looked none the worse for her outdoor summer and did not seem to think she had accomplished anything out of the ordinary. It was not Mrs. Madill's first trip into barren country, however, for she accompanied her husband last year to Fort Churchill on a similar expedition. At that time she was the only white woman permitted to go in.

Leaving Waterways June 14, the adventuresome pair began their long canoe trip down the Athabasca and Mackenzie Rivers. Their journey twice was broken when they were able to make connections with river steamers for short distances. About 100 miles was covered by steamer and 1,200 by canoe. They returned here from Alkavik, 700 miles northwest of here, shortly before navigation closed down for the winter.

Hospitality of the North was one of the happy memories Mrs. Madill carried away with her. So many times, she said, when camped near the various forts, they were accorded such friendly treatment. A great deal of travelling was done at night and during the long summer when there was only a short time of darkness, many hours were spent at the paddles.

Elevator Crashes Down

Several Persons Are Undergoing Treatment At Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C.—Two women and a 10-year-old girl are in hospital and several persons are undergoing private treatment at the Vancouver hospital for injuries sustained when a passenger elevator in a department store plunged out of control early Tuesday night, December 22.

The injured requiring hospital treatment are: Mrs. Beckner, broken ankle, shock. Mrs. D. M. MacDonald, broken ankle and bruises. Patay MacDonald, broken left leg.

According to information eight persons were in the elevator when it fell. The car was making a down trip and had reached a point between the second and third floors when it suddenly plunged downward. When the car reached the automatic stop at the first floor, it was brought up sharply, stopping about three feet below the floor level.

Great Britain's Liquor Trade

Commissioner's Report Will Go Before Parliament Eventually

London, England.—A revolutionary plan for supervision of Great Britain's entire liquor trade by five "licensors" is indicated, the Sunday Dispatch said, in the forthcoming report of the British Liquor Commission. The minority report of the commission, the paper said, will demand wide powers for making Britain dry by local option.

The commission's report will go before Parliament but not while the government is occupied by economic problems. Much of the battle-ground of the 2½ years' work of the commission will be reviewed in the Houses before action is taken.

GERMANY'S CRISIS

AT A GLANCE

Here, in a nutshell, is the background of Germany's new crisis: Chancellor Heinrich Brüning supports the established order of things, including the Young plan for war reparations payments—unless same is changed by negotiation—and the Versailles peace treaty that ended the World War.

President Paul von Hindenburg, 84, former field marshal of the German armies, is backing the Brüning cabinet with his drastic new economic decree and other measures.

Adolf Hitler, intimate Nationalist and fire-breathing leader of the German National Socialist Party (who call themselves Fascists, though they are disclaimed by Mussolini), wants Brüning's job and lays down this program:

"The National Socialists demand a revision of the Versailles treaty.
"Germany's war guilt is a lie.
"Germany is being enslaved by the rest of the world.

"We demand the return of the Polish corridor, which is like a strip of flesh cut from our body. It is a national wound that bleeds continuously, that will bleed until it is returned to us."

Hitler also favors repudiation of Germany's war reparations debts, called "tribute" by the Germans. However, he would not repudiate Germany's commercial debts.

It is said that Hitler has more than 6,000,000 supporters, and that the number is growing as Germany's economic troubles increase.

Throughout Germany there is a growing movement for repudiation of war reparations. The conservative Prussian state diet, representing two-thirds of the Fatherland, recently adopted (without a dissenting vote) a motion demanding that at the German government seek "revision, having for its aim complete cessation of any kind of tribute payments."

Should Hitler gain control of Germany and attempt to repudiate war debts and rearrange boundaries, France would immediately appeal to the world court. If this plea failed, France then might send troops into Germany to enforce retention of present conditions.

A third powerful party in Germany, which both Brüning and Hitler oppose, is the Communist party.

The opinion has been expressed that should Hitler gain control of the country, he would soon be overthrown by the Communists in the general disorder that would follow and, in this case, Germany—disarmed by treaty restrictions—might join hands with Russia in a powerful Communist alliance.—Ex.

CANADIAN DOLLAR AT PREMIUM IN ISLANDS

The recent upward trend of the value of the Canadian dollar when converted into British West Indies currency, brought many inquiries to Canadian steamship offices. Barbados currency has reached a point where a Canadian dollar there brings $1.21 in local cash, and other islands, including Bermuda and the continental colonies of British Honduras and British Guiana, show similar currency values. It is logical that many Canadians will visit these sunny British colonies this winter, and already advance passages are being booked by Canadian National "Lady" liners and the cruise ships, C.N.S. Prince Henry and C.N.S. S. Prince David, the former sailing from Halifax and Boston and the latter two from Boston only.

BLAIRMORE BE BEATS AND KIMBERLEY DYNAMITERS IN THE GAME

Kimberley, B.C., Dec. 2.—Saturday night's hockey game between Blairmore Beaters and Kimberley Dynamiters ended up all square with the count 1-1, in a game featured by exceptionally clean hockey, not one penalty being meted out by referee Sud Smith, who handled the game alone. All kinds of hockey was dished up for the crowd of about 500 people. At times it was fast and brilliant, and on occasions it was very very ragged, but it was clean interesting hockey and the result just about represents the two teams, although Kimberley were unlucky not to notch the winning marker in the last period when they suffered hard for two thirds of the period. From a local standpoint the change from individual rushes, which characterized the Trail game, to excellent combination efforts on the part of the first string forward line, was a great improvement and if the boys will stay with it, it will mean a lot of goals in forthcoming encounters. The Dynamiters' defence of Botterill, Kozak and Hutton is improving every time out and ranks well with the Trail and Nelson defences. Blairmore were well served in this game by Makin in goal and by McVey, Evans and McKay, while Vojprava also turned in a nice game. The crowd was much smaller than at previous games and those who did not attend missed a really fine game.

The teams lined up as follows: Kimberley—Hutton, goal; Botterill, Kozak, defence; Art. Mackie, Dub Mackie, McQuade, James Kemp, Hugo Mackie, Johnny Dicken, Melior and Livingstone. Blairmore—Makin, goal; W. Johnson, N. Anderson, defence; P. McKay, Idris Evans, Jim McVey, P. Anderson, Jack Oakes and A. Vojprava.

No penalties were awarded. During the intermission between periods the fans were treated to some fancy skating by L. Dupont, who gave a really good display.

The Kimberley band enlivened the proceedings with some excellent music. The band is certainly an asset to the community.

The Blairmore goalie, Makin, gave one of the best displays between the pipes that we have seen this season. He saved his team repeatedly, especially in the final period.

The visitors' defence was good, and their first string forward line was very fast and played nice combination. Vojprava was the pick of the second string line and served his team well.

Hutton, in the Kimberley goal, was not worked as hard as the visiting net minder, but was very safe when called upon. The shot that beat him was from close in on a pass from the corner, and he had no chance to cover.

The Botterill Kozak defence played a peach of a game and shot better every time out. They need take their hats off to no defence in the league.

The Art. Mackie - Dub Mackie - McQuade forward line showed to much better advantage than in previous games, and their combination efforts in the final period left little to be desired. The Mackie boys had a tendency to forget their left wing during the first two periods, which is to be regretted, as McQuade packs by far the hottest shot of the three; but they fed him more in the final session, and as a result Makin had to be in his best form to keep his citadel clear.

The second string forward line of Hugo Mackie, Kemp and Dicken need strength on the left wing. Dicken was not effective and was also inclined to try too much individual work. He has shown to much better advantage in previous games and probably just had an off night and will in all probability be seen in better form next time out. Hugo Mackie and Kemp played nice hockey all the way. Jimmy Livingstone was given a chance in the final period, but did not have much opportunity to show his wares. Mellor was not used.

The Kimberley team as a whole have improved immensely since their game with Trail, and Manager Chisholm now has them playing combination nicely and with great effect. If they keep up this style of hockey they showed in the final period, of this game they will score a lot of goals in this league—and goals mean winning of games. As this is written the boys are enroute to the West Kootenay to mix with Nelson and Trail on their own ice, and on their showing here on Saturday night have an even chance of success.

THE KIMBERLEY PRESS SAYS:

Blairmore seniors showed to good advantage last Saturday night when they played the Kimberley Dynamiters to a tie score of 1-1. Much has been heard of this team, as several players in Trail and Kimberley have their homes there, and they were given a royal welcome. They are fast skaters, wiry and never seem to tire, and their brand of hockey is good to see. One or two are the equal of anything in the West Kootenay league for speed and stick handling and it was only the superb back checking ability of Kimberley forwards that kept the score down. The question now is how would Blairmore stack up against the other two teams in the West Kootenay league? Tied showing Saturday night after a lone drive, showed conclusively that hockey is their middle name. They are a clean bunch of players and made a hit with the fans.

An insane Chinaman killed a white girl over in Vancouver last week and all the sob sisters are calling for legislation that would force all white girls out of Chinese restaurants. A tragedy of that kind always stirs up the sentimentalists. Instead of asking for legislation that would put out the Orientals, they call for legislation that would put several hundred white girls out on the street with no place to go. If restaurants must be operated by Chinese, then let girls work in them. The more help employed, the better off we are. Ask any white girl employed in Chinese restaurants how they are treated, and almost every one will tell you candidly that the Chinese are good bosses and treat the girls with respect and in a kindly manner. There might be an exception now and then, but the great majority are kindly and respectfully treated. There are few enough jobs as it is without putting girls out on the street because of an insane act. It was not so long ago that an insane patient killed a nurse in a Vancouver hospital, but no one even suggested that women nurses be taken out of the hospitals.—Cranbrook Tribune.

Both teams were right out to win, and the outstanding players were Brown and Myles, of Michel, the latter saving many hard shots that were labelled for the net, while R. Hoffman, R. Taylor and F. Coates all turned in a good performance for Corbin. Michel held the lead all the way through, and it was not until the third period that Corbin came up even with them. THE EXCHANGE RATE

The heavy rate of exchange placed against the Canadian dollar by the United States is nothing to be alarmed about. From a purely Canadian standpoint it is a blessing in disguise. It is keeping the Canadian dollar in Canada. For the first Christmas in many years our dollar is visiting more frequently in Canada with Canadian institutions, where it belongs. Little, if any, Canadian money is wandering far from home. Trade barriers, obstacles to progress, are being built up by every nation, they believe that it is the panacea for all evil. Each country is building a wall around itself to keep out foreign goods. In time the wall will become so high that its structure will weaken and topple. The United States, the highest protective country in the world, is today suffering more acutely than any other country.—Cranbrook Courier.

The New Junkers' Plane

Has Opened Up New Phase Of Transportation In Canada

Extremely valuable mineral finds have been reported in different parts of the north country far beyond the railways. That at Bear Lake up on the Arctic circle is perhaps the most notable, but there are others at Island Lake, east of the north end of Lake Winnipeg, and elsewhere. The development of such properties, no matter how rich, is impossible without adequate transportation facilities.

The prospectors and mining men can fly to these remote places with the airplanes now in use, and these can carry a small amount of freight. But development on any considerable scale requires something better.

It is to supply this need that Canadian Airways Limited has secured the big Junkers' plane. It is built for carrying freight, not passengers. The interior resembles the inside of a freight car. Its carrying capacity and its speed when loaded of 100 miles an hour should be a great stimulus to mining development at remote points.

It is understood that the company will secure other freight planes of the same type.

This is a new and interesting phase of transportation in Canada, and it may lead to highly important developments.—Manitoba Free Press.

Paris Has Rare Viands

"Salon Of Gastronomy" Draws Throngs To Sample Foods

There are always interesting salons to be seen in Paris and just now there are no less than three—the Autumn Salon of painting and sculpture, the Nautical Salon with full-sized yachts and motorboats exhibited in the great hall of the Grand Palais and most interesting for most people, the "Salon of Gastronomy."

At the latter are to be seen and tasted the most delectable viands of this fruitful land of France. There are assembled the artists of the culinary world and there the wine-makers are exhibiting their finest products for the public to taste.

It is possible to lunch there on samples, beginning with caviar and continuing with lark pie and sauerkraut with fifty kinds of sausage to choose from, hams from a dozen chesnes, and cakes without number. For those who look like potential customers, champagne and cognac merchants will open choice bottles. There is even unforgotten grapejuice to be sampled, for France is not bigoted about wines.

Each day official and unofficial juries try out new dishes and at home at night declaring the world is almost too full of good things.

Saskatoon Handling Large Percentage Of Shipments For Market

Dominion Government returns received at Saskatoon covering the marketing of livestock in the province of Saskatchewan reveal that 75 per cent. of the livestock marketed in this province during the week ending December 10 passed through the Saskatoon stockyard. This is taken by livestock officials to indicate the rapid development of the cattle and hog industry in the northern areas of the province, and follows closely in line with the trend of marketing percentages for the past months.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 3

THE SON OF GOD BECOMES MAN

Golden Text: "He that hath seen the Father."—John 14. 6.

Lesson: John 1:1-18.

Devotional Reading: Philippians 2. 6-11.

Explanations and Comments

The Great Theme Of The Gospel: The Relation Of The Word To God and To The World, verses 1-5.

"Logos," Word, is seen in our terms theology, biology, chronology, etc.

"Logos" was a familiar and significant term in both Jewish and Gentile thought. It meant the Eternal God in relation to men, the self-communicating God, John uses the term to designate Jesus Christ, an expressing and revealing God in the world.

"Christ" is not a word, you observe, but the Word. Every prophet was a word of God. Every great or good man since the world began, who has added anything to the general fund of virtue or of truth, has been a word of God. Galileo was God's word to science. Luther was God's word to the church. Christ was the Word, the full and complete thought of God—uttered once for all, expressing the very soul of God with such entire precision and finality, that of Him it may be said, The Word was with God and the Word was God.—J. W. Dawson.

Christ's Spirit takes breath again. Within the lives of many men, when changing ages have their breath Its word of God in human flesh.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.—In the Word God dwelt. The purpose of the Gospel of John is to prove that Jesus is the incarnate "Logos." John 20:30, 31.

"I say the acknowledgement of God in Christ. Accepted by Thy reason, solves For Thee

All questions in the earth and out of it." (J. Browning).

In Him was life; and the life was the light of men. He is the source of light, whence the life of men is derived, whence His life is the source of light, whence comes man's power to discern the truth. Compare Psalm 36:9.

For with Thee is the fountain of life; In Thy light shall we see light.

The Witness Born To The Word By A World, verses 9-18.—"Suddenly now, as if on these heights the air was becoming too keen and rare, John drops down to speak of things from the standpoint of man." There came a man, sent from God (and therefore a word of God), whose name was John, whence the life of men is derived, whence His life is the source of light, whence comes man's power to discern the truth. Compare Psalm 36:9.

Auto Bungalow Camp

May Be Established Under License As Prince Albert

The National Parks Department will shortly advertise for offers for an exclusive license to establish an auto bungalow camp at Prince Albert National Park. It was announced by the superintendent, J. A. Wood. The license offered is for 21 years, renewable for a further 21 years. Exclusive rights to operate a bungalow camp are given for only five years.

Plans in the parks office here cover 100,000 acres of bouldings by the first year. These are only in the nature of a suggestion, Mr. Wood said.

In any event, plans and specifications will have to be fully approved by the parks department. Three proposed sites are under consideration.

Governor Job Is Not a Steady One In Chihuahua

Governors come and governors go in the Mexican state of Chihuahua. Colonel Roberto Fierro, recently appointed governor of the state, is the 285th man to hold the post since Chihuahua was organized in 1824.

Chihuahua has had an average of two and a half governors a year.

No governor in the last twenty years has served out his elective term of two years.

Enrique Creel, who left office in 1910, was the last governor to serve out a term.

Chihuahua has had seven governors in the last three years.

The shortest term ever held by a governor was one hour.

Are Building Giant Liner

New Queen Of Seas Under Construction For Cunard Company

Almost a quarter of a million people in Great Britain will have had employment, either directly or indirectly in the construction of the new giant Cunard liner which is being built by John Brown & Co., at their Clydebank yards.

There is hardly an industry in the whole of Great Britain that has not been affected in some way or other by the construction of this mighty vessel. Everywhere factories have been working night and day since the order for this liner was first given to John Brown & Co., on December 1st, 1930, by Sir Percy Bates, Bart., G.B.E., chairman of the Cunard Line.

In addition to the great forgings, turbo generators, miles and miles of tubing—and such like accessories which will be wanted, there will be thousands of pieces of cutlery and plate, crockery and other equipment required for feeding the large armies of passengers on this new super Cunard liner on her trans-Atlantic crossings.

When the huge rudder, which in weight equals about twenty-five street cars, was being transported from Darlington to Clydebank, the railway company, over whose lines it was being carried, were forced to suspend all other trains until the one carrying the rudder had completed its journey, as the mammoth piece of metal required two specially-constructed flat cars running side by side to carry it. A veritable forest of lumber was required to furnish the wooden props for varying sizes which support the vessel as the rudder is lowered. The new Queen of the Seas will be turned over to the Cunard Line sometime in 1933. Her launching is expected to take place early next year.

Has Gone Beyond Reason

Ten Per Cent. Discount On Canadian Dollar Is Plenty

The discount upon the Canadian dollar is, so far as the 'statistical record goes, beyond reason. A ten per cent. allowance would apparently bridge the difference between the Canadian and the American dollar; and a continuing discount at that rate would be accepted as satisfactory and would permit the doing of business. Instead, the discount has reached a height so unjustifiable by the known facts as to suggest manipulation. It is, of course, claimed that the price of exchange is determined with exactitude by the operation of the law of supply and demand; but this, like other beliefs about the automatic and impartial functioning of international banking, is being damaged by developments which suggest that the whole field of international banking has been in recent months a battleground for powerful, unscrupulous scheming financial powers.

New York has been for many years the money market for Canada, and we have seen our exchanges with the world through it. Under former conditions this was natural, convenient, safe and prompt. But it is now apparent that if we are forced to continue to use this machinery we shall pay a heavy toll. The suggestion comes from Ottawa that our dependence upon New York can be broken by the establishment of our own money market in Montreal. It is a question not of the desirability of this change but of its practicability. If such a market can be established by the joint action of the banks and with the assistance of the Government, there should be no delay in embarking upon the enterprise.—Manitoba Free Press.

Nick at once established himself at Jean's side kindly informing her that now that his inner man was satisfied he was prepared to make himself agreeable. Upon which Lady Anne apologized for his manners and Nick interrupted her, volubly pointing out that the fault, if any (which he denied), was entirely hers, since she had been responsible both for his upbringing and inherited tendencies. They both talked at once, wrangling together with huge zest and enjoyment, and it was easily apparent that the two were very close friends indeed.

Blaise took no part in the stream of chatter and nonsense which ensued, but stood a little apart, his shoulder propped against the chimney-piece, drinking his coffee in silence.

Jean's glance wandered reflectively from one brother to the other. They presented a striking contrast—the stern, dark-browed face of the elder man, with its bitter-looking mouth and that strange wide streak lying like some ghostly finger-mark across his dark hair, and the bubbling, blue-eyed charm of the younger. The difference between them was as definite as the difference between sunlight and shadow.

Nick was full of plans for Jean's entertainment, suggestions for boating and tennis occupying a prominent position in the programme he sketched out.

"It's really quite jolly paddling about on our lake," he rattled on. "The stream that feeds it hails from Dartmoor, of course. All Devonshire streams do, I believe—at least, you'll never hear of one that doesn't. The Moor being our proudest possession. Besides, people always believe that your water supply must be of crystalline purity if you just casually mention that its source is a Dartmoor spring. So of course, we all swear to the Dartmoor origin of our domestic waterworks. It sounds well—even if it not always strictly true."

"Miss Peterson must find it a trifle difficult to follow your train of thought," commented Blaise a little sharply. "A moment ago you were discussing boating, and now it sounds as though you'd shortly involve yourself and us—in a disposition upon hygiene."

Nick smiled placidly. "My enthusiasm got away with me a bit," he admitted with unfeigned calm. "But I haven't the least doubt that Miss Peterson will like to know these few reassuring particulars. However—And he forthwith returned enthusiastically to the prospect of tennis and kindred pastimes.

Once again Blaise broke in ungraciously. It seemed as though, for some reason, Nick's flow of light-hearted nonsense and the dozen different plans he was proposing for Jean's future diversion, irritated him.

"Your suggestions seem to me remarkably inept, Nick," he observed scathingly, "seeing that at present it is midwinter and the lake frozen over about a foot deep. Quite conceivably, by the time that tennis and boating become practicable, Miss Peterson may not be here. She may get tired of us long before the summer comes," he added quickly, as though in a belated endeavour to explain away the suggestion of inhospitality which might easily be inferred from his previous sentence.

But if the hasty addition were intended to reassure Jean, it failed of its purpose. The idea that her coming to Stalpie was not particularly acceptable to its master had already taken possession of her. Originally the consequence of the conversation she had overheard at the hotel, Tormarin's reluctantly given welcome when he met her at Coombe Exile, had served to increase her feeling of embarrassment. And now, this last speech, though so hastily qualified, convinced her that her advent was regarded by her host in anything but a pleasurable light.

"Yes, I don't think you must count on me for the tennis season, Mr. Brennan," she said quickly. "I don't propose to billet myself on you indefinitely, you know."

"Oh, but I hope you do, my dear," Lady Anne interposed with a simple sincerity there was no doubting. "You must certainly stay with us till your father comes home, and—with a smile—unless Glyn has altered considerably, I imagine Belnefels will not see him again under a year."

"But I couldn't possibly foist myself off to you for a year!" exclaimed Jean. "That would be a sheer imposition."

Lady Anne smiled across at her. "My dear," she said, "I've never had a daughter—only these two great, unmanageable sons—and I'm just longing to play at having one. You're not going to disappoint me, I hope?"

There was something irresistibly winning in Lady Anne's way of putting the matter, and Jean jumped up and kissed her impulsively. "I should hate to!" she answered warmly.

But she evaded giving a direct promise; there must be a clearer understanding between herself and Tor-marin before she could accept Lady Anne's hospitality as frankly and fully as it was offered.

The opportunity for this clearer understanding came with the entry of Blaise, the butler, who brought the information that a favourite young sister of Nick's had been taken ill and that the stableman feared the dog had disturbed her.

Nick sprang up, his concern showing in his face.

"I'll come out and have a look at him," he said quickly.

"I'll come with you," added Lady Anne.

She slipped her hand through his arm and they hurried off to the stables, leaving Blaise and Jean alone together.

For a moment neither spoke. Blaise, smoking a cigarette, remained staring absently into the fire. Apparently he did not regard it as incumbent on him to make conversation, and Jean felt miserably nervous about broaching the subject of her visit. At last, however, her left Lady Anne and Nick accompanied her, and she could do so, drop her into speech.

"Mr. Tor-marin," she said quietly, "so quietly that none would have guessed the flurry of shyness which underlay her cool little voice—"I am very sorry you will have to put up with me for a week or two, but I promise you I will try to make other arrangements as soon as I can."

"He turned towards her abruptly.

"May I ask what you mean?" he demanded. It was evident from the haughty, almost arrogant tone of his voice that something had aroused his anger, though whether it was the irritation consequent upon her presence there, or because he chose to take her speech as censuring his attitude, Jean was unable to determine. His eyes were stormy and his face as he looked at her beneath that placid, outwardly, however, she retained her composure.

"I think my meaning is perfectly clear," she returned with spirit. "Even at the station you made it quite evident that my appearance came upon you in the light of an unpleasant surprise. And—from what you said just now to Mr. Brennan—it is obvious you hope my visit will not be a long one."

"If she had anticipated spurring him into an impulsive disclaimer, she was disappointed.

"I am sorry I have failed so lamentably in my duties as host," he said coldly.

The apology, uttered with such an entire lack of ardour, served to emphasize the offence for which it professed to ask pardon. Jean's face whitened. She would hardly have felt more hurt and astonished if he had struck her.

"I—J—J—," she began. Then stopped, finding her voice unsteady. But he had heard the break in the low, shaken tones, and in a moment his mood of intolerant anger vanished.

"Forgive me," he said remorsefully—and there was genuine contrition in his voice now. "I'm a cross-grained fellow, Miss Peterson; you'll find that out before you've been here many days. But never think that you are unwelcome at Stalpie."

"Then why—I don't understand you," she stammered. She found his sudden changes of humour bewildering.

He smiled down at her, that rare, strangely sweet smile of his which when it came always seemed to transform his face, obliterating the harsh sternness of his lines. "Perhaps I don't understand, either," he said gently. "Only I know it would have been better if you had never come to Stalpie."

"Then—you wish I hadn't come?" "Yes—slowly. "I think I do wish that."

She looked at him a little wistfully. "Is that why you were angry—because I've come here? Lady Anne and—Mr. Brennan seemed quite pleased," she added as though in protest.

"No doubt. Nick, lucky devil, has no need to economize in magic moments."

She felt her cheeks flush under the look he bent upon her, but she forced herself to meet it.

"And—and you?" she questioned very low.

"I have"—briefly. It was long before she spoke. The events of the day marched processionally through her mind, and her thoughts persisted in chattering round the baffling, incomprehensible personality of Blaise Tor-marin.

His extreme bitterness of speech she ascribed to the unfortunate episode that lay in his past. But she could find no reason for his strange, expressed wish to disregard their former meeting at Montavan—to wipe out, as it were, all recollection of it.

That he did not dislike her she felt sure; and a woman rarely makes a mistake over a man's personal attitude towards her. But for some reason, it seemed to her, he was afraid to let himself like her! It was as though he were anxious to bolt and bar the door against any possibility of friendship between them. From whichever way she looked at it, she could find no key to the mystery of his behaviour. It was inexplicable.

Only one thing emerged from the confusion of thought; the last glimpse of that night at Montavan had returned—returned with fresh impulse and persuasiveness. And when at last she laid asleep, it was with the beseeching, soul-haunting melody of "Valse Triste" crying in her ears.

Prince Stresses the Value Of Advertising Urges Nation To Keep Great Britain Before the World

The Prince of Wales urged the nation to tell the world that Great Britain "is still alive" and able to take advantage of the most modern method of advertising.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Travel Association, the British he lived up to his reputation as the Empire's best salesman when he quoted a modernized version of an old rhyme:

"Early to bed and early to rise: 'You'll simply bust if you don't advertise."

"Too little is known abroad of what Britain and Ireland have to offer," the Prince said, "while there is too much talk of financial and industrial difficulties which we, in common with every other country, are suffering."

The Prince told the meeting, at which Lord Derby presided and which was attended by many prominent persons including 30 mayors from all parts of England, that the stoppage of British pleasure touring abroad was merely an emergency measure, due to the financial situation.

Millionaires Are Fewer

Reduced By Half In U.S. After Stock Crash Of 1929

That there are 23,499 fewer millionaires in the United States now than there were before the stock market crash is one of the striking revelations of the disastrous effects of the business depression made by the Internal Revenue Bureau's statistics of income for 1930 issued at Washington.

If a millionaire be defined as a person with not less than a million dollars' worth of property, the income from which is $50,000 or more, there were 43,194 millionaires in the heyday of the boom times in 1928. The stock market cracked in October, 1929, leaving 38,650 persons reporting incomes of $50,000 or more for that calendar year. In 1930, however, the number of millionaires had fallen to 10,695.

The figures showing less than half as many millionaires with about one-third of their former income will have an important bearing upon tax legislation in the approaching session of Congress to meet the two billion dollar treasury deficit looming for this fiscal year.

LIVE OAK

All the trees in the forest

Bow to the winter's will, Flinging their bright-leaved leaves

Shuddering, bare and chill. All the trees in the forest

Scatter their leaves of gold, Scatter their leaves of red and bronze

Naked they stand, and cold. All the trees in the forest

Saving the oak alone— Live oak, who clings to his robe of green,

Careless that summer has flown. I would be, like the oak tree, Dumbless in winter's blast,

Clothed with the joy of sunbright hours And the memories of the past.

Indian Trapper Discovered He Slept In Cabin With Bear

Once upon a time—quite recently in fact—Peter John, an Indian from the Rama band, was walking through the woods near Orilla, Ont. Here and there he inspected his traps. It was getting dark and the reserve was a long way from Peter John. So he decided to spend the night in an old cabin. In the cabin were two beds, a little bed and a big bed.

So Peter John climbed into the big bed and went to sleep. In the morning Peter John was awakened by a stentorian and wheezing moan and a couple of yawns. So he looked into the little bed and there he saw what he thought was a man in a fur coat.

Peter John said "hello," but there was no answer. He reached out and shook the fur coat. And the fur coat uncurling itself, uttered a loud "woof" and a couple of grunts and went away very quickly.

And Peter John said it was the first time, as far as he knew, he had ever slept quite so close to a bear.

Girls Are Advised

To Marry Farmers

More Chances For Having Happy Home and Fewer For Divorce

Girls eager for the best chance for domestic happiness were advised to marry farmers by Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson of Albion, Iowa, the only woman to have received the distinguished service medal awarded by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"The girl who marries a farmer has a much greater opportunity for a happy home and a fuller home life than the girl who goes down the middle aisle with a city dweller," she said.

The farm, she said, brings a man and his wife into closer community of interests than is generally possible in city life.

Effect Of Tariff On Work Of Canadian Writers Is Subject Of Discussion

The effect on Canadian authors of the tariff against United States periodicals came up at the meeting of the Canadian Authors' Association at Toronto. Miss Margaret Lawrence, of the Canadian Home Journal, said that since the imposition of the tariff the magazine which she represented had been receiving a better class of work. Canadian writers were sending manuscripts to their own publications instead of across the border, she thought.

J. T. Rutledge, editor of the Canadian magazine, stressed the importance of trying to improve workmanship and holding to Canadian ideals. "People will read articles and stories in United States' publications that they would not read in Canadian," he said. So far as the tariff was concerned, he commented, "prohibition never helped anyone to grow strong. We do not want a tariff wall, but an attitude of mind."
